Swimming Pool Blues

Dear Helen: I like a boy but his little brother is a pest, and mean too. How can you keep him out of our swimming pool when his big brother is invited to go in?

That is a problem with almost everybody who has pools. You like one of a family but you can't have the whole family over or there wouldn't be any pool left. What to do? —Tired Hostess

Dear Tired: Private swimming pools must be "By Invitation Only" or they soon become backyard menaces. Make this plain to your friends, and don't worry about getting tough. All pool owners do... Or should, —H.

Dear Helen: I have the biggest problem. My boyfriend and I broke up, so my best girlfriend said she'd help me get him back. Fine help she is! She got him for herself. No they are going around together.

I want him back so bad I could just sit down and cry my eyes out. Don't tell me to forget him. I couldn't ever. —S.C.

Dear S: You can and you will out you won't believe me now, so I'll say (again): The best way to get a boy back is turn your back on him. He would rather chase than be pursued. —H.

Dear Helen: I'm a live-in baby sitter and care for this 5-year-old girl who just won't learn to put her shoes on the right feet. I've marked one shoe so she knows it's for the left foot, but invariably she puts it on the right and vice versa, and then I have to help her change them. I thought it would help if I quit trying to help her, but it hasn't. What can I do? —B.K.M.

Dear B: If your small charge ALWAYS puts her shoes on the wrong feet then she knows what she is doing — otherwise the law of averages would make her right half the time.

So I'd guess this is a bid for attention, and if you forget the shoes (let her wear them a n y way she pleases and she'll soon discover how uncomfortable they are) and concentrate on her less apparent needs the problem may disappear.

Those less apparent needs? Call yourself a substitute mother, rather than a "live-in baby-sitter" and you'll understand what I mean. —H.

Note to Perplexed: Telephone your Better Business Bureau and ask to have your contract checked. While all this sounds sneaky and underhanded (which it is) I'm awfully afraid the fine print on the contract makes it legal. These sale companies know how to stay within the law.

When your mother put her name on the piece of paper, she agreed to a price which would probably shock you — though it sounded like a "bargain" at so much a week. A contract is binding. If she is sued, her credit rating suffers, and that is why most people pay up rather than fight. —H.

Profits Are Ammunition for Criticism

NEW YORK (AP) — Record profits are supplying ammunition to the critics of business policies. But business, resenting this criticism of its price and wage stands, has counter-charges of its own.

Labor is using this year's big jump in corporate earnings as an argument for a greater share for the workers.

Government spokesmen are using the net income climb as a talking point in their drive to halt price increases — and also as a basis for threatening tax increases on corporate income to cool down the booming economy.

On only one thing do all sides agree: Corporate profits have risen to the greatest dollar volume in history and the rise so far this year has been at a rate that few formerly thought could be attained.

Industry's answer is that if the dollar volume of profits is tremendous, so is everything else: production, sales, payrolls, materials costs, tax payments at all levels of government.

Some industries insist that their profits must rise still more if they are to finance the growth and modernization that today's high-stepping economy demands.

And to this some company chiefs are adding that prices must go up still more if they are to keep step with rising costs — and with the need for more profit dollars to finance growth.

Business spokesmen also deny government officials' charges that business expansion plans and price and profit policies offer the biggest threat of a ruinous inflation ahead.

Industry spokesmen insist that an equally big threat is the rapid rise in government spending. They call upon Washington to do more than propose token gestures of holding down its outlays. In this business-held view, the efforts to get business to cut down on spending for growth just now should be matched by a like restraint at the government level.

But the profit figures themselves can't be denied. With few exceptions, corporations are reporting their first quarter earnings well ahead of a year ago. The first 500 to report show total profits after taxes of $4.5 billion this year, against $4 billion in the first three months of 1965.

Copter Pilot

William Walter

U. S. Marine Corps 1st Lt. William (Tim) Walter, former Abilene, Texas high school football and baseball letterman who in 1959 was named Mr. AHS, is serving in Viet Nam as a helicopter pilot.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Walter of Abilene and husband of the former Judy Kaye Wright of Hope, Ark. He graduated from Abilene High in 1959 and in 1962 received a B. S. Degree in international affairs from TCU.

Walter began active duty with Marine Corps in Sept. 1962 and eight months later he was awarded his Navy flying wings.

During his tour in Viet Nam that started in Sept. 1965, he has flown more than 250 helicopter missions and received eight air medals. His missions there have included flying supply missions to military outposts, evacuating wounded to hospitals and air lifting troops to battle.

Most of his flights originated out of the U. S. Marine Base near Chu Lai, just south of Da Nang, northern coastal city in South Viet Nam.

In January, Lt. Walter was U.S.S. Valley Forge and the U. has been stationed aboard the attached to the U.S. 7th Fleet and S.S. Princeton.

Slated to spend the remainder of his tour in Chu Lai, he is to return to the U. S. in late August.

His wife and 1 1/2 year-old son, Matthew Timothy, are now living in Hope.

Greek Charged for Selling Secrets

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A Greek engineer employed at a NATO rocket base being built on Crete has been arrested and charged with delivering military secrets to Soviet embassy staff members in Athens.

Police said the engineer, Spyridon Georgakis, 36, has been under surveillance since last November.

Authorities did not specify the nature of the information Georgakis is accused of passing to Soviet military attaches.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, sometimes accused of presenting the pros and cons of subjects as if they were balanced on a scale, took an unequivocal position Tuesday night on composer Igor Stravinsky.

On the CBS special, we saw a closeup of the musician's hand as he wrote some notes.

"This," said Charles Kuralt, reading the script of David Oppenheim, "is a portrait of a man doing something that he does better than anyone else in the world."

They may be fighting words to some, but the rest of the hour was dedicated to illustrating some accomplishments of the Russian-born composer. It was not a "profile," a word so dear to the heart of television producers, nor was it a portrait. It was sort of a sketch of Stravinsky.

He is now 83, a resident of Hollywood — and still composing controversial music.

The program focused at the beginning on the great musical "scandal" 52 years ago when Stravinsky's "Rites of Spring" was presented in a new kind of ballet choreographed by Nijinsky. It was the great departure from what European audiences were used to.

The program's photographers followed Stravinsky to the very theater in Paris where the audience reacted so violently to the piece that, as he recalled it, he arose from his seat in the center of the theater, said "Go to hell," and left by a nearby fire door.

In spite of his years and physical infirmities, the composer recently completed a composition in still another musical language. The composition is called "variations" and as both Oppenheim and Stravinsky explained, it is an attempt to break away from old-fashioned tonality and move into something called "serial music."

The sounds of "variations" were undoubtedly as strange to some today as were those of "The Rites of Spring" to another generation.

"The interest of my life, my everyday life," Stravinsky said very earnestly, "is to make. I am a maker."

Too Many Thieves Go to Church

LONDON (AP) — In England, too many thieves are going to church. The trouble is they're going for material gain, not spiritual.

Within the last 12 months 1,500 churches have been robbed. Some of them have been ransacked and pillaged. Church thefts include 200 pairs of candlesticks, most of them old and highly valuable.

Sometimes the thieves — the petty ones — just raid the poor boxes. In other cases, chaises worth $14,000 have been stolen.

Lead is a favorite loot. Great chunks of it have been ripped from roofs. In the black market, lead brings fancy prices. One church lost its gate. Another's bells were stolen.

Nothing is sacred. The altars, with their beautiful crosses, some centuries old, are often targets. The favorites are Anglican and Roman Catholic churches, for they are older and their trappings more ornate.

Many small parish churches in England possess treasures that would cost thousands of dollars to replace. Yet the doors are nearly always open. Those in charge of the churches do not want to hide their treasures.

They want the members of the congregation to see them and enjoy them. Yet, this is getting very costly.

Churches near main roads are vandalized more than those on country lanes. Police say the thieves prefer the churches near the highways because they can make a quick getaway.

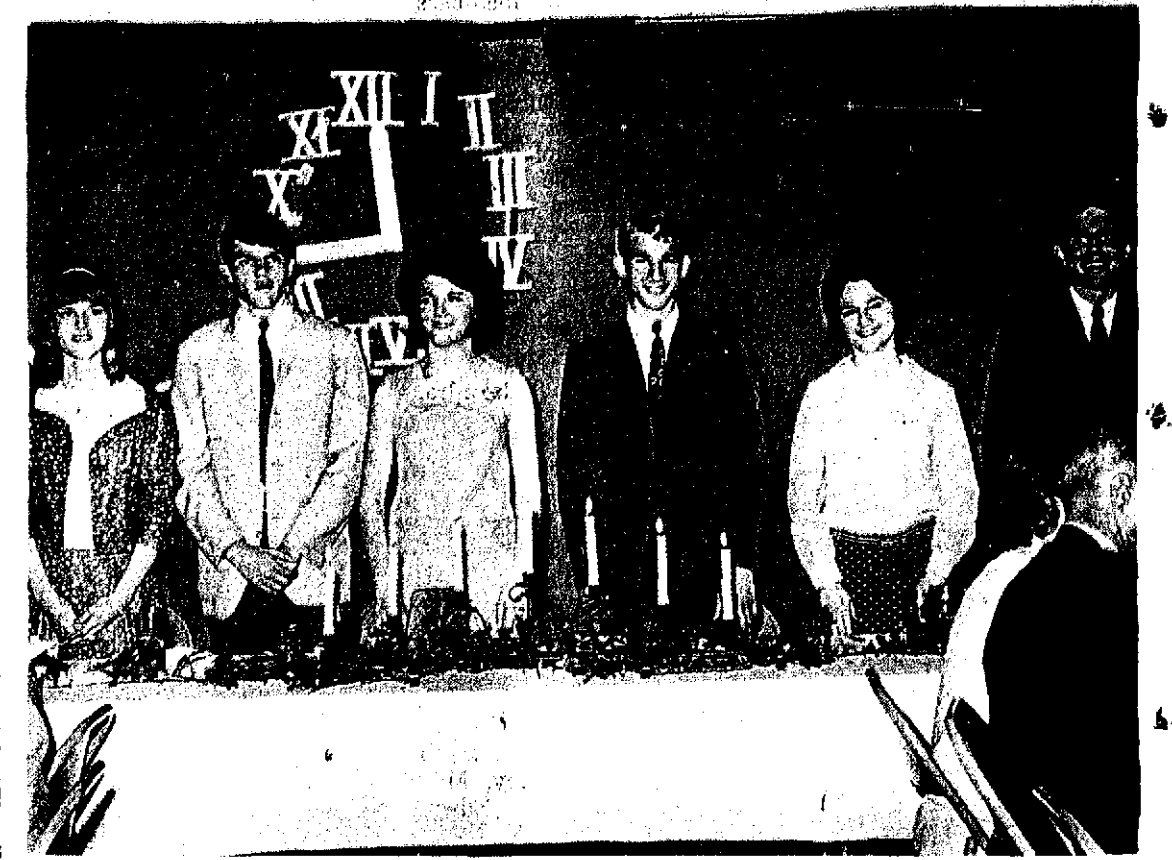

Many churches have vergers and these keen watch, but they cannot be on duty around the clock. Even the cathedrals, with large staffs, are being burglarized. A silver water box used for communion was stolen from St. Paul's in the very heart of London. The box was valued at $280.

Insurance companies have warned the churches to be more careful of their treasures.

Said a spokesman for the ecclesiastical insurance office which insures most of the nation's 20,000 Anglican churches and others:

"We have no definite proof, but organized gangs may be behind some of the thefts. They may be sending the loot abroad and selling it there. There's a certain amount of education thievery going on."

Student Council Formally Installed

The 1967 Hope High School Student Council was formally installed into office during special ceremonies in the school auditorium.

Dr. Forney G. Holl member of the school board and former HHS principal, gave the oath of office to the twenty new members of the council. Immediately following this the newly installed president, Larry Don Wright, made a formal acceptance speech on behalf of the new council.

The ceremony was opened with the invocation given by Dr. L. T. Lawrence and followed by the presentation of the American and school flags. Then Principal Grady Cathey presented the annual Student Council Efficiency Awards to Gayle Williams and Grandy Royston. These awards are given to the boy and girl members of the Student Council who have been most efficient in performing their duties on the council for the past year.

The other officers of next year's Student Council include: Dwight Galloway, Vice-President; Beth Lawrence, Secretary and Peggy Franks, Treasurer.

Junior representatives are: Ellen Turner, Jack Fountain, and Crit Stuart.

The sophomore representatives are Juane Reynolds, Janey Seamans, and Susan McCain.

The freshman representatives are Jimmy Alford, Dan Stuart, and Kevin Guerin.

Formosa Getting Flying Boxcars

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States is delivering C119 Flying Boxcars to Formosa to continue modernization of the Chinese Nationalist Air Force.

The first group of the planes arrived Saturday, an announcement said today.

The total number of C119s to be delivered was not announced. They will replace World War II C46 Commandos.

10 Czech Students Meet Death

PRAGUE, Czechoslovak (AP) — Ten students were killed and 38 others were injured near Prague Monday night when their train crashed into a truck, the official CTK news agency reported.

The truck, carrying 48 engineering students to a state farm was hit when it entered a railroad crossing while the gates were open, CTK said.

Shah of Iran Frees Prisoners

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah of Iran has freed 64 prisoners to mark the birth of his second son last week.

Those pardoned by Tuesday's royal decree included 10 persons sentenced to life imprisonment.

Issuance of the pardons is traditional following the birth of a royal son and heir.

They Didn't Fool Fourth Graders

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — An untimely thing happened to Charles Lindbergh's historic New York to Paris flight when it was recorded in the textbook "California: Our State Today." It got moved back to 1926.

But that didn't fool fourth graders Jeanne Black and Edward Dart of the Cherrylee Elementary School in El Monte, Calif.

"Our class found he flew in 1927," the erudite Edward wrote his school board president.

"I'd change it if I were you," added Jeanne.

Board President Thomas W. Braden acknowledged the error Tuesday and promised the youngsters it would be corrected in the next printing.

Bullfighting was first known on the island of Crete, in the Mediterranean, before the time of Christ.

Are You Forging Ahead in Life's Rat Race or Are You Just a Treadmill Mouse?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you forging ahead in life's rat race? Or are you just a treadmill mouse that has fallen behind?

Surprisingly, many people don't know for sure.

It isn't always easy to tell. There are, however, certain symbols of status. Here are a few unmistakable signs:

Your wife raises by at least $1 the amount she daily doles out to you as lunch money.

One of the two or three television sets in your home is a color set.

Some of the officials at the bank where you keep your checking account recognize you when you enter. If your account is occasionally overdrawn, they don't make a federal case of it. At quitting time you don't have to tote home a briefcase stuffed with newspapers just to prove how hard you are working.

Instead of talking about office problems, the boss likes to chat with you about his golf scores.

If you don't have an office of your own at least your desk is by a window with a nice view.

The senior vice president hates you and regards you as a conniving young whippersnapper.

All the other ambitious guys your age in the office secretly dislike you, too, although they try to be publicly palsy-walsy.

When you pause to compliment your pastor after his Sunday sermon, he pats you on the arm as he shakes hands.

If the firm buys a table at a public dinner, you and your wife get your tickets weeks ahead of the event—not the day before after some other executive has decided he can't make it.

You have become so important that no one else in the organization any longer can steal your ideas without at least giving you credit for them.

The boss's wife confides to your wife what an old meaner her husband is around the home.

You feel free to have a martini at lunch without gulping three packages of mints afterward to kill your breath.

Your wife realizes that you are so tired from making big decisions at the office all day that she doesn't mind going alone to P-T-A meetings.

You decide that the college you went to isn't good enough for your children. It doesn't have quite the right standig.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Most bridge players would make the correct play of the diamond five from dummy at trick one. They would be delighted when their seven held the trick, then would enter dummy with the ace of clubs in order to take the trump finesse. Later they would get to dummy with the king of diamonds for the heart finesse. Since both the trump and heart finesses would lose, they would be one down and would undoubtedly complain about bad luck.

By V. T. HAMLIN

By J. R. Williams:

When this hand was played recently at New York's Mayfair Club the South player was Morrie Elis. Morrie, who won many national championships during the late thirties and early forties, confines his play to rubber bridge these days but his dummy play is still unsurpassed.

Morrie studied the opening lead carefully and decided West had opened fourth best and therefore was marked with the queen. In that case Morrie saw he had a chance to avoid any heart finesse. Operating on the principle that a finesse that is almost sure to work is a better proposition than one that is only even money, Morrie proceeded to win the first diamond with his ace.

He led the jack of clubs to dummy's ace, discarded his low heart on the king of clubs and ruffed a club. When both opponents followed to that third club, Morrie knew that the fifth club could be set up. Therefore, he led the ace and another trump. West won and led a diamond.

Morrie finessed dummy's jack, ruffed out West's last club, returned to dummy with the king of diamonds and discarded his queen of hearts on the fifth club.

Indians Edge Yanks, Bosox Blank Detroit

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Great Scott," exclaimed Manager Billy Herman when he saw the rookie infielder sporting an ascot on a spring training trip.

So George Scott discarded the neckwear, but not the nickname. Scott, Boston's dapper young first baseman, took over the American League home run lead Wednesday night with his sixth and seventh of the season as the Red Sox blanked Detroit 7-0 on Earl Wilson's two-hitter.

It was just that kind of slugging that earned Scott a starting job during spring training.

Scott drove in five runs with his two homers as the Red Sox won their fifth game and third against Detroit this season.

Elsewhere, Fred Whitfield's ninth inning homer gave Cleveland a 2-1 decision over New York in a game in which Indians' shortstop Larry Brown suffered a fractured skull when he collided with teammate Leon Wagner going after a fly ball.

Washington whipped Baltimore 3-2, Minnesota rocked Chicago 6-1 and California ripped Kansas City 13-2 in other games.

In the National League, New York blanked St. Louis 9-0, Philadelphia shaded Atlanta 2-1, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 4-3, Houston shut out Chicago 4-0 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 6-1 as Willie Mays set a league career home run record with his 512th.

Scott's first homer followed one by Wilson in the fifth inning. In the ninth, Scott hammered his second homer of the night, just missing the left field roof with a long drive.

Whitfield, the Yankees' No. 1 nemesis, beat New York with a homer for the third time this season. The veteran first baseman, who played under New York Manager Johnny Keane when Keane managed the St. Louis Cardinals, has punished Yankee pitching for 13 homers in the last two seasons.

Brown and Wagner collided in the fourth inning chasing Roger Maris' blooper. Brown was reported in serious condition at Lenox Hill Hospital where examination revealed a fractured skull, fractured nose and fractured cheekbone.

Wagner suffered a broken nose.

The Senators, who ended Baltimore's 10-game winning streak Tuesday, beat the Orioles again with three pitchers combining for a five-hitter.

Relievers Dick Lines and Ron Kline permitted just three hits over the last 5 2-3 innings after starter Jim Duckworth was forced to leave the game with a back injury in the fourth inning.

Minnesota scored three runs on one hit in the first inning and went on to beat Chicago as Jim Kaat scattered nine White Sox hits.

Don Mincher's double following an error and a walk produced two runs and then Don Buford's throwing error brought Mincher home with the third run for the Twins.

Bob Rodgers whacked four hits and Norm Siebern and Jack Warner drove in two runs apiece as the Angels racked Kansas City. Dean Chance pitched a six-hitter and the Angels battered three Athletic pitchers for 17 hits.

Nicklaus and Palmer Ruled as Favorites

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer rule as favorites in the $17,000 Champions International Golf Tournament but the best bet is for rain.

It has showered here all week as players tried to get in practice and today's opening round was threatened by more of the same as the 97 pros and four amateurs waited to see whether they would get a chance at the 7,118-yard par 36-35-71 Cypress Creek layout.

Doug Sanders, Gay Brewer, Ben Hogan, Jack Burke and defending champion Bobby Nichols are among other favorites.

During a pro-amateur in light rain Wednesday, both Nicklaus and Palmer failed to break par. Nicklaus shot a 72, good for $90 while Palmer had a 73 for $23.33.

Ken Venturi shot a four-under-par 67 for the low score on the Cypress course and pocketed $350 while Rod Funseth and Billy Maxwell had four-under-par 68s on the club's adjacent par 72 Jackrabbit layout which netted them $325 each.

LSU Coaches Look Over Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coaches from the team that gave Arkansas its only loss in season, the Razorbacks scored three touchdowns during a 30-minute spring football scrimmage.

Charlie McLendon and members of his Louisiana State University staff joined representatives from Memphis State University, Tennessee Tech and the University of Southwestern Louisiana as observers.

LSU snapped Arkansas' 22-game winning streak 14-7 in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1.

David Dickey scored two touchdowns on runs of two and three yards. The scores were set up on a 20-yard pass from Ronnie South to fullback Alvin Jones and on a 35-yard run by Bruce Maxwell. Russell Cody scored the third touchdown on a one-yard run after a 23-yard pass play from Gordon Norwood to Tommy Trantham.

Bat Average Next Aim of Willie

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays can concentrate on his batting average again now that he's hammered a pitch out of candlestick park to bring him the National League career home run record of 512.

While pursuing the homer which eluded him for 10 days, Willie's average dropped from .348 to .294 as he admits feeling the pressure of going for a big record.

He got it Wednesday night as he defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, hit it. "It was a long time coming." "It was when he hit No. 512 in San Francisco's 6-1 victory over Los Angeles.

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Chuck Taylor struck out Leo Posada, the 1965 Texas League home run champion, with the bases loaded in the seventh and Arkansas got a 6-4 baseball victory over Amarillo Wednesday night.

Taylor came in to relieve Fred Wall with two on and two out, walked a man and then struck out Posada.

It was Arkansas' first victory of the year over the Sonics.

The Travelers scored a run in each of the first four innings, then wrapped up the victory with two runs in the ninth.

Porkers Play in Little Rock Friday Night

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Coach Frank Broyles brings his Arkansas Razorbacks here Friday night to give central Arkansas fans an opportunity to see some of the future Porker football stars.

The Red-White battle at War Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. will be one of the feature practices of the 20-session spring drills. Spring practice ends one week later at Fayetteville with the second Red-White game.

The attention will be focused on a bevy of young backs, with none of last year's offensive starting backs in the spring lineup.

Tailback Bobby Burnett and fullback Bobby Nix graduated while seniors to be Jon Brittenum and Harry Jones have been held out of contact work because of injuries.

In fact, five sophomores are slated for starting, backfield roles Friday. They are quarter-back Gordon Norwood, tailback Bruce Maxwell and wingback Jim Whisenant for the Whites and halfbacks David Dickey and Steve Higgins for the Reds.

The spring game roster lists 59 sophomores compared to 12 seniors and 11 juniors.

Mays Finally Breaks Ott's Homer Record

Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Mays broke Mel Ott's National League Home run record by hitting No. 512 Wednesday night.

Ending a 10-day search for the record-breaker, Mays found the range in the fifth inning and surpassed Ott by tagging a pitch from Claude Osteen over the right field fence for his seventh homer of the season and 512th of his career.

Oddly, it was the first homer of the season by Mays that did not tie or win a game for the San Francisco Giants, who held a 4-1 lead en route to a 6-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers when the $125,000-a-year center fielder brought the crowd to its feet.

Although it didn't count as far as winning the game, it got Mays a two-minute standing ovation from the Candlestick Park crowd of 28,220, it ended a seven-game drought in which Mays hadn't driven in a run and it ended a strong of 96 innings which Osteen had not allowed a homer.

Mays, however, will have nothing to show for it, except a line in the record book. He got his cake, but didn't eat it. And he got his ball, but couldn't keep it.

The ball was retrieved by Henry Garron Jr., 17, of Oakland, Calif., but his father did not want to part with it.

"I was offered $100 and I think it was worth more," Garron said.

But he still asked Mays to autograph it, and Mays did, remarking:

"Be my guest and keep it."

Mays gave scant notice to the cake supplied for the occasion, a yellow cake with "512" written on in white frosting. He didn't spot it until after he had showered, and it went untouched.

"That thing must have been here a week," Mays quipped.

Mays probably will pass two more goals this season. He figures to climb above both Ted Williams, who hit 521 homers, and Jimmy Fox who hit 534, before the season ends.

That would leave only one more target — Babe Ruth and his 714 homers.

7 Cities Seeking NFL Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of Houston, New Orleans, Boston, Phoenix, Arizona, Portland, Ore., Cincinnati and Seattle, hopeful of landing a franchise in the National Football League, have been invited to state their case at the NFL spring meeting opening May 16 in Washington, D.C.

The NFL, which awarded Atlanta a franchise for the 1966 season, plans to expand to 16 teams for 1967.

Sacrifice Dates Back to Moses

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Descendants of the Bible's good Samaritan gather atop a sacred mountain Thursday for a religious sacrifice that dates back to the time of Moses. But this year they will not be joined by members from Israel.

The Samaritans who live in Israel refused to cross through the Mandelbaum gate after Jordanian authorities turned back 22 for security reasons.

The Samaritans, a heretic sect of Jews, use their own lunar calculations in determining the Passover, which the rest of the Jews celebrated this year on April 4-12.

The 345 Samaritans in the world are divided by the barbed wire between Jordan and Israel. But the barbed wire is lowered for the ancient ritual of the Passover, when the survivors of the biblical sect converge around a round stone altar on Mt. Gerizim, 30 miles from Jerusalem.

This is not the Passover observed by the Orthodox, Reform and Conservative Jews.

In nearby Nablus, live 215 of the surviving Samaritans, worshipping at their white limestone temple, working at such crafts as carpentry or shoemaking, selling charms to Arab peasant women who consider them magical, and exhibiting their religious treasures to tourists.

The other 130 come across the border once a year from Jaffa, Israel, for the Passover slaughter of lambs on the mountain, making the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage.

The Samaritans were almost wiped out by the Greeks and Romans, and persecuted from Byzantine times till the 20th century, when their number dropped to about 200 and they faced extinction.

Now, with women converts marrying into the community, they are on the increase.

The Samaritans, the subject of Christ's first parable, have accepted virtual annihilation for the sake of continuing religious practices that set them apart from the rest of the world.

Jews claim the Samaritans were renegade Israelites who escaped the Jewish years of captivity in Babylon, mixed with the Gentiles, and falsified the religion.

The Samaritans call themselves the true believers. They defied David and Solomon by proclaiming Mt. Gerizim "the navel of the earth" and the chosen place of God, and denouncing the Jewish temple in Jerusalem as a false place of worship. They accept only the Pentateuch, the first five books of the Old Testament, as true scriptures.

The Samaritans' pride, and the center of their lives, is a Pentateuch written on sheepskin scrolls, kept in two cylindrical silver caskets shrouded in a gold-embroidered cloth. These, they claim, are 3,625 years old.

The hereditary high priest of the Samaritans, Amran Isaac, 76, supports the priesthood by copying and selling editions of the Torah. Of the 345 Samaritans, 85 are members of his family.

The Samaritans in Jordan are accepted as citizens — 11 of them are civil servants, and King Hussein contributes money to the Passover feast.

Those who administer the law say that many newspapers, long accustomed to strict government controls, continue to work as though the new law had never been passed.

Spain's Press Law Brings Sparring

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A month after Spain's new press law became effective, newspaper editors and officials who administer the law are still sparring carefully.

"We are feeling each other out," said a leading newspaper director. "The law is good, but neither we who publish newspapers nor the Ministry of Information officials who enforce it are quite certain how far we can exploit the freedom it provides without some wrist slapping."

The law, brainchild of the 43-year-old minister of information, Manuel Fraga Iribarne, ended many decades of press censorship. It provided both new freedoms and new responsibilities for those who write and edit newspapers and magazines.

Stuff Fresh Avocados With Crab

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The first avocados of the summer are showing up on the greengrocer counters now. They are ideal for making a stuffed avocado salad. Not all avocados are ready to eat when you buy them however. Flavor develops as the fruit begins to soften. To test a summer avocado, hold it in cupped hands and press gently. If it gives, or feels soft, it is ready to serve. Another test to try at home is to insert a toothpick in the stem end; if the avocado is ripe, it will slide in easily. To hasten the softening of avocados, keep them in a warm, humid place.

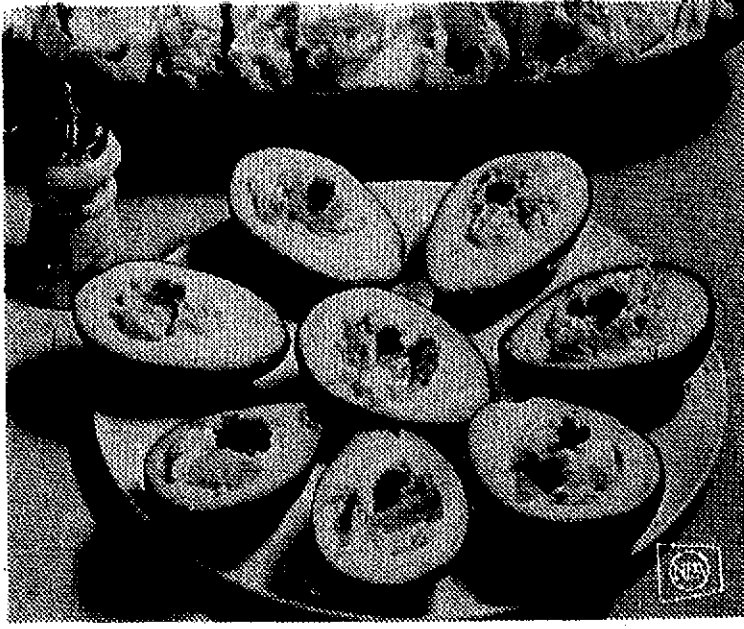

STUFFED AVOCADOS

(Serves 6)

1 (1-pound) package frozen crab meat, thawed, drained and flaked (about 2 cups)

- 2 tomatoes, peeled, seeded and chopped
- 1 tablespoon cider or wine vinegar
- 2 teaspoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon tarragon leaves
- 1 teaspoon chervil leaves
- 1 teaspoon chopped chives
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups real mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 avocados
- Western iceberg lettuce

Combine crab meat, chopped tomato, vinegar, parsley, tarragon, chervil, chives and salt. Blend mayonnaise, catsup and Worcestershire sauce. Add to crab mixture. Toss until well-mixed. Chill. Cut avocados in halves lengthwise and twist slightly to pull apart. Remove seeds, but not skin. Fill with crab mixture. Serve immediately in lettuce cups.

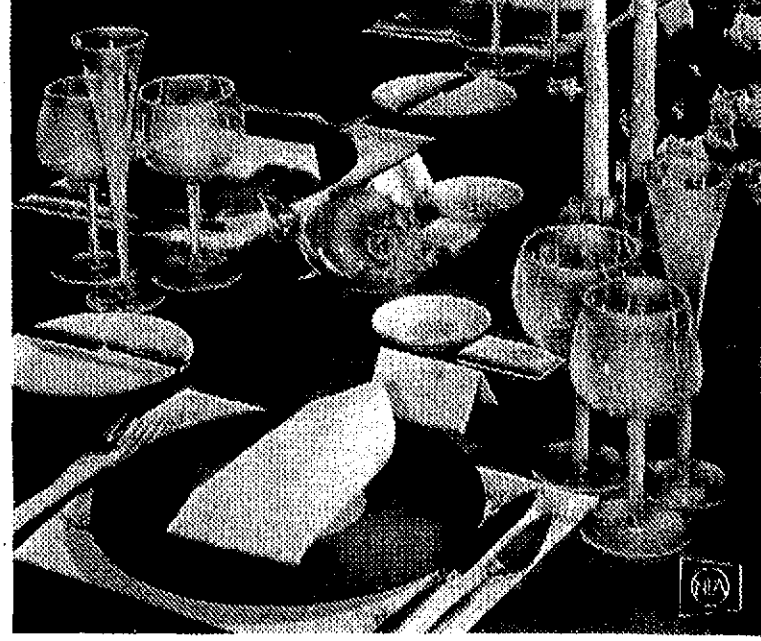

STUFFED AVOCADOS feature tasty crabmeat.

Simplicity for Engagement Dinner

Elegance and simplicity keynote modern parties to honor brides-to-be. Streamline the table, using imagination and taste rather than ornamental clutter. The menu should be different and sophisticated, but within the culinary skill of the hostess.

That is the highly experienced advice of Stuart Levin, director of New York's elegant Four Seasons restaurant. "Simplicity is the beginning of elegance. Plan your menu and table setting around a theme. In keeping with the bridal motif, I suggest pink and crystal," he says.

"For the home party, I am enthusiastic about the new triple-ply paper place settings and fine quality paper napkins. The colors are beautiful.

ELEGANT SIMPLICITY keynotes parties.

Combine them with your best china and crystal to attain a light-hearted, youthful, ultra-modern effect.

STRAWBERRY SORBET—FOUR SEASONS

(Serves 4)
1 quart fresh strawberries
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Combine ingredients in an aluminum bowl. Place in a larger receptacle filled with crushed ice and salt. Blend thoroughly with an aluminum or wooden spoon or egg beater, constantly turning bowl as you work.

Note: For a tarter sorbet, substitute additional strawberries, which have been allowed to stand in sugar for approximately two hours, for the water and lemon juice.

Lace-Soft, Simple Dress

by Mary Brooks Picken
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Fashion designers favor lace this season. Yardage is beautiful and effective when made into a soft, simple dress such as we show. Lace becomes "fussy" only when it is frilly.

Color, design, new fibers, weight—all combine to make lace fashion right. Today's dress lace has enough body to cut and sew easily in a most satisfactory way.

Mrs. Picken Buy your lining either in a perfectly matched color or a contrast. You may prefer navy blue under black, a real apricot under beige or a deeper pink under pale pink. Where you plan to wear the dress will tell you the best combinations of colors to choose.

Formerly taffeta was preferred for lining lace. Now the soft synthetics or china silk are favored as they allow the dress to hug the figure better and to fall more gracefully.

Some baste the lace to the lining, then cut lace and lining as one, seaming all together. Others prefer to cut and seam separately. This latter method is used in most of the more expensive lace dresses.

When seaming separately—stitch the lining on the seam line. Overlap the lace. Baste on the seam line, then zigzag around the motif as best you can. Carefully cut away any surplus. Use small scissors for this task and clip with the points to avoid damaging the lace. Darts can be done in the same way.

For seaming use the short-stitch zigzag stitch (as for jersey). This gives longer lengths of thread in the seam and helps to prevent seam from tightening.

When finishing neck, armhole, or sleeves, use a fitted or true bias facing. Use narrow seam turns and put in by hand, catching only the lining and not the lace.

If you are omitting the lining in the sleeves, as you may well do for summer, finish the bottom of the sleeves in a matching color of pearl cotton thread and zigzag over this. Then cut the edge away up close to the zigzag.

Open Box Saves Struggle

DEAR POLLY—My mother always keeps the box of adhesive bandages OPEN in the bathroom cabinet or on the kitchen shelf, so we do not have to struggle to open the box when any of us has a cut finger.—TREVA

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for typists. When realigning copy that has been removed from the typewriter and is being inserted for a second time, use the "window" from a window envelope and slip it over the printing point and check the alignment by typing before typing the correction directly on the paper.—RUBY

DEAR POLLY—When I decided to give myself a haircut and home permanent I wished that I had medicine cabinets with swinging mirror doors on opposite walls so that I could adjust them to see the back of my hair and still have both hands free. Since I did not have this convenience, I taped a hand mirror to the thickness of the bathroom door which is on the wall opposite to the single swing mirror door to the medicine cabinet. By moving the two mirrors back and forth I can adjust them to be able to see any part of the back of my head.—LOIS

DEAR POLLY—Do you want to safely transport a home-made pie or cake to a party, to Aunt Susie's house or to a picnic? Take a large tin box (perhaps one that a fruit cake came in), remove the cover and place the cover upside down on the kitchen counter. Now place the cake or pie in the cover and invert the bottom of the tin box in the cover and over the baked goods. Carry the whole thing upside down and you have a tight compartment to protect those precious goodies.—L. M.

DEAR POLLY—I have a simple way to have clean, fresh kitchen window shades at all times. I buy medium-weight yard material such as denim, Indian Head or the like, in white or ivory in the width to fit my window shade roller. Cut to the desired length and make a hem in the bottom wide enough for the wooden stick to slip through. Fasten this shade on to the old roller with five or six thumbtacks. When soiled it is easy to remove and pitch into the washing machine, starch lightly (optional) and replace on the same roller with the same tacks. A colorful remnant might be used for such a shade and brighten up the kitchen.—MRS. J. J. B.

What is A Mother?

To her family, she's special.
She's understanding,
a banquet chef, a short order cook,
a fountain of love, a chauffeur,
warmth and security.
She's clean socks, starched dresses,
a mender of hurts.
She's scrubbed ears,
a tender nurse, a maid, a queen.
She deserves a day of honor and tribute.
She deserves the love of those she loves.
Yes, she's very, very special.
This Sunday, you'll tell your mother
how much you care.
We'd like to tell all mothers, "We Care, too!"

Propaganda - Axe Politicians Swing Against Public

All politicians in power try to maintain themselves by manipulating the news of government so their administration is made to appear in the most favorable light possible, and it was Adolf Hitler, the late German dictator, who defined this curious practice at its cynical best.

It was Hitler, speaking through his press officer, who said: "Propaganda is the art of making the most miserable of peoples feel they are the happiest."

The past-masters of propaganda are astute individuals who recognize that the common people read the headlines but seldom the actual news. The propagandists, therefore, scan the headlines and formulate policy that goes unchallenged except for the small percentage of the public that has read the news under those headlines and knows the truth. And the history of self-governing nations suggests that this small minority is helpless — overwhelmed on voting day by millions of fellow citizens befuddled by the unscrupulous magic of propaganda.

The immediate case here in our own United States is the comic opera performance being put on by the politicians in power to convince the voters that safety on the highways is a matter of how automobiles are built rather than how they are driven. All the news you get from a headline is that there has been an accident. Invariably some driver made a mistake; but you'd have to read the whole story to learn that — and the politicians and their propagandists gamble that you didn't.

They see a political opening, and promptly grab it. All politicians have more camp-followers than they have jobs to offer. Here is an opportunity to launch a new federal program and open up thousands of new jobs to prey on the cost sheets of Detroit's automobile-makers. It's a racket, of course. Manufacturing costs will go up, so will the price that the public has to pay for cars — but the politicians in power will have gotten a new program going and thousands of camp-followers placed in cushy federal jobs.

Your editor has been driving automobiles since 1915, and has been an owner since 1925. In all that time I can think of only one major defect affecting safety. One day I noticed a front wheel of my fairly-new car seemed to be slightly cocked. I took it to a dealer at once. He showed me a telegram he had just received from the factory calling for inspection all cars of that serial number — and the wheel was one.

The factory had discovered that a certain batch of steel had crystallized after several months on the road, and the bug-pin which held the front heel knuckle to the axle could break. Mine had broken, it in three places, and the axle piece still held the assembly together.

One case in 50 years — and at due to a failure of steel, of manufacturing.

In what other line of manufacturing can you find such a safety record?

On the other hand, safety experts say about a quarter of all Americans shouldn't be permitted to drive at all — and that as they are permitted on the highways.

But politicians are a cowardly lot. People can vote.

But cars can not. Ergo, we are likely to have a new federal "safety program" in Detroit — and higher prices so Mr. Politician can take care of Uncle John and Mrs. Fannie Mae Camp Folwer.

No Change on Segregation, Says Wallace

By REX THOMAS
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace has refused to budge from his segregationist stand, even though it may cause Negroes to vote for his wife's Republican opponent in November.

"We are not going to change our attitude for anybody," he told newsmen Wednesday.

"We're not making any deals for any group of voters."

With the Democratic primary behind them, and Mrs. Wallace assured of the nomination to succeed her husband, Wallace was looking to the general election which he said, in effect, could be won without the Negro vote.

In Washington, the probable GOP nominee for governor, congressman James D. Martin, said Mrs. Wallace's thumbing victory wouldn't deter him from seeking nomination from the state convention July 29.

He said he hoped Negroes "won't vote as a bloc, in the interest of all concerned," but he planned to "ask for the vote of all of the people who believe in my platform and philosophy."

The freshman congressman, one of five Republican House members elected in Alabama during the Barry Goldwater state landslide in 1964, said he would peg his campaign to the two-party system and the idea that Wallace represents "the Democratic party of Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey."

Martin is considered a potent vote getter. In 1962, he almost unseated U.S. Sen. Lister Hill, a Democrat.

Whether Wallace or Martin would get Negro endorsement was an open question. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said it is possible that Negroes would vote in a bloc for Mrs. Wallace in the general election, but he added that it was too early to say.

He said he thought the Negro bloc would be needed for victory.

Martin, however, played down the strength of the Negro vote in the primary, saying it wasn't high as expected.

War Surplus Sale Brings Big Hassle

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces a brush-fire war on Capitol Hill over the disposal of surplus military gear.

And Senate investigators added fuel with a charge that the Pentagon is discarding used but current models of military equipment, some of it virtually identical to newly ordered items.

The next formal engagement is due Friday, when the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures holds a public hearing on Air Force surplus equipment practices.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, the chairman, has accused the Defense Department of giving away for foreign aid used but repairable heavy equipment.

He said the cranes, bulldozers and tractors are desperately needed by American forces in South Viet Nam.

Four Convicts From County Are Paroled

The Arkansas Parole Board has recommended parole for 87 convicts, including four sentenced from Hempstead County. They are:

Joe (Rock) Biddle, sentenced to a year in 1966 on a charge of grand larceny;

Jerry W. Chambers, sentenced to a year in 1966 on a charge of burglary and grand larceny;

Wayne Smith, sentenced to three years in 1965 on a charge of forgery and uttering;

Samuel Wilkins, sentenced to three years in 1965 on a charge of robbery.

Mr. McCurdy has spoken in numerous laymen's meetings. The public is invited.

$46 Million Paper Mill for Ashdown

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP) — Nekosha-Edwards Co. will build a $46 million paper plant here, with production scheduled to begin in August, 1968, Mayor E. E. Cowling said today.

Cowling said that the plant was announced by Sam Casey, president of the Ft. Edwards, Wisc., firm.

The plant will use a minimum of 465 employees in production of 400 tons per day of bleached kraft pulp and 200 tons per day of paper, Cowling said.

It will be located two miles south of Ashdown.

The city of Ashdown approved a $50 million bond issue to finance the plant, Cowling said.

It will be retired through rental fees to the firm, he added.

Successful Heart Operation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Doyle E. Wilson, 45, of Morrilton has become the second man to undergo a successful aortic valve implantation at the Arkansas Baptist Medical Center.

The first, Eugene H. Beavers, 59, of Clinton, was a childhood friend of Wilson.

In the operation, an improperly functioning aortic valve is cut off of the heart and an artificial one sewed into its place. Wilson was discharged from the hospital about two weeks ago.

Cong Finally Discovered, Many Killed

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division flushed the first sizable enemy force in three weeks today, reporting it killed 100 Viet Cong with possibly 300 to 400 more trapped in a valley.

The fighting broke out 11 miles north of Bong Son, 280 miles northeast of Saigon near the scene of heavy fighting earlier this year.

A division spokesman said two rings of troops were deployed on high ground around the valley, with the enemy digging in, apparently for a fight to the finish.

By late tonight, the division reported it had captured 30 Viet Cong and seized 268 suspects.

In the air war, high-flying B52 bombers plastered a Viet Cong stronghold near the Cambodian border for the fifth day in a row.

The American Stratofortis dropped their 750-pound bombs on a suspected Communist arms factory and training area 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

Over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers renewed their attacks in force after a two-day lull during which their flights were almost washed out by monsoon rains.

In the renewed aerial assaults in the north, a U.S. spokesman reported that an F105 Thunderchief was shot down by enemy ground fire 65 miles northeast of Hanoi. The pilot parachuted and was seen on the ground but a rescue attempt was thwarted by heavy antiaircraft fire.

It was the 225th U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam.

Three County Education Groups Merge

Three county educational groups have recently merged into a single organization to be known as the Hempstead County Education Association. At a dinner meeting of more than 80 administrators and classroom teachers Tuesday night at Town and Country, Thurston Hulsey, Washington school superintendent, was elected president of the new organization.

James McCorkle of Saratoga, acting as chairman, conducted the election. Others officers for 1966-67 are Oris Thornton, first vice-president, Mrs. F. J. Burroughs, second vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Etter, secretary and Mrs. Bonnie Beckworth, treasurer.

Mr. McCorkle stated as a reason for formation of the new group, the need for one strong educational organization with increased attendance and better programs.

Appearing on the program with vocal selections from the "Sound of Music" were a trio of Sixth Grade girls from Belvins, the Peebles brothers of Saratoga with songs and guitar and a girl with a piano number.

Head Start Cash for Five More

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity gave its approval Tuesday of $80,834 in Head Start program grants for five Arkansas applicants.

The grants: Bergman School, Boone County, $7,744, for 30 children. Lake City Public School District, $10,573, for 30 children. Crawford County Community Development, Inc., $41,720, for 225 children. Green County Rural Development Authority, $14,373, for 55 children. Mount Ida Public Schools, $6,924, for 30 children.

No Cure Yet for Sneeze Victims

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — June Clark was sneezing one to 18 minutes apart today, her father said.

James Clark said his 17-year-old daughter still can't smell but said she has continued to be able to breathe out of her nose since the family's trip to Mesa, Ariz.

The trip, which the family hoped would cure the ailment entirely, also opened June's nostrils for the first time.

June was forced to drop out of high school because of the sneezing siege, which entered its 18th week Tuesday. Doctors have been unable to come up with a cure.

$302 Million Slashed From Agencies Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee slashed more than $302 million today from the $14.3 billion President Johnson requested to finance 24 federal agencies next year.

It was the first substantial reduction recommended by the committee in five big money bills this session. The committee's approval of several hefty increases in earlier bills has prompted the President to criticize congressional spenders.

But if the committee's action today is sustained next week by the House, it may evoke more presidential criticism.

Among other cuts, the committee knocked out the entire $19.7 million requested to Project Mohole going. This is a National Science Foundation project to drill deep into the earth beneath the sea to try to find out about the earth's age make-up and other scientific data.

Congress has provided $55.4 million for the project over the past four years.

W. Lawrence Ordination Is Sunday

William T. Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Lawrence, is to be examined Saturday by Ouachita Presbytery as a candidate for ordination.

In the Presbytery approves his examination, he will request that a Commission be appointed to ordain him to special Service of Ordination at the local Presbyterian Church Sunday at 4 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend the Service.

William expects to graduate from Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary the last of May and his wife, Carol, have been accepted as missionaries by the Board of World Missions.

They plan to take special training at Montreat, N. C. this summer.

A commissioning service will be held at Montreat August 5 for all outgoing missionaries. Then the couple will spend a year in Costa Rica attending a special language school. After the year's work they expect to be assigned as Missionaries to Mexico.

Contraceptive Pill Superior

GENEVA (AP) — The World Health Organization said today that the contraceptive pill is superior to the intra-uterine loop as a birth control method.

A WHO survey found that the rate of pregnancy for women fitted with the loop was 1.8 to 2.9 per hundred women, while that of women taking the pill was 0.01 to 0.02 per 100.

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Pearson of the Pine Bluff Commercial today was named the winner of a $500 second place award for distinguished newspaper writing on conservation.

The winners of the Edward J. Meeman Awards were announced by the Scripps-Howard Foundation.

Fred Jones of the Pittsburg Press and Alexander B. Brook of the York County (Maine) Coast Star won the two $1,000 first prizes.

To Replace 100,000 Men in Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is preparing to provide more than 100,000 replacements for Viet Nam this summer and fall.

The other services also face the replacement problem, but to a lesser degree than the Army, which has pumped the greatest number of troops by far into Viet Nam since the buildup began last July.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told Congress in recently released testimony that "The big demand for replacements will start in July and extend through October, because that will be one year after the bulk of the Army and Marine Corps forces were deployed to Viet Nam."

Wheeler said "the Army has planned programs to provide the required number of people, which will total something over 100,000."

The replacement "hump" stems from the one-year tour of duty required for U.S. servicemen sent to Viet Nam. They may stay longer, but only if they volunteer for an extension.

Sources said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, strongly favors retaining the one-year tour, even though a stretchout would relieve the manpower squeeze of the services in the United States and elsewhere.

Westmoreland was pictured as believing the hope of being sent home after a year in the war is a major factor in high U.S. troop morale in Viet Nam.

In outlining the sources of replacements for Army troops in Viet Nam, Wheeler said some of the men that are training at various camps around the country will be part of this replacement group.

"Some will be people who have returned from Europe," he said. "Some will be people who are taken from other stations such as Panama and Alaska."

He indicated that the replacements will be shuttled into Viet Nam on an individual, rather than a unit basis.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big appropriations bill including $489 million President Johnson says he does not want for health and education awaits formal House passage today.

The $10,555,342,500 measure, to finance the Labor Department and the Health, Education and Welfare Department in the next fiscal year, was approved informally by voice vote Wednesday after an economy drive failed to cut some of the increases.

But before the expected roll call vote sends the measure to the Senate, one final attempt to slash spending five per cent across the board was to be disposed of.

The blanket reduction amendment, offered by Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, is the same one that the House has turned down by one-sided margins on several previous appropriations measures.

Bow, senior Republican member on the appropriations committee which recommended the budget-breaking allotments, offered an amendment Wednesday to cut back federal money for payments to school districts in areas where many federal civilian and military families live.

The bill would provide $416.2 million for these payments, $232.8 million more than the President requested.

Bow's amendment to change the payment formula and reduce payments lost by voice vote.

Suspicion Business Boom at End

By SA DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—Opposition to a tax increase now is based on a growing suspicion that the big business boom is at or nearing its peak. This view holds that the unusual upsurge of recent months is about over. Ahead, without any further government intervention, would be either a definite slowdown in business expansion or a leveling off on a high plateau.

A tax increase thus wouldn't be needed to curb a runaway boom. It might even cause a downturn in the economy. Some private as well as government economists see government fiscal and monetary steps already taken as likely to moderate the business pace in the latter part of 1966.

Based on these figures, a view that the fast growth of recent months is due to continue—and thus offer an inflationary threat—is easy to sustain.

Then on what is the suspicion of a moderating pace ahead based?

One point being increasingly made is that the economy grew so fast because it had room in which to grow. This room is fast disappearing. Many industries are now operating near maximum capacity. In some skilled trades there is a labor shortage. This puts a natural curb on growing so fast much longer.

It also, of course, increases pressure for higher prices and wages. Credit also is becoming tighter and borrowing costs higher. Lenders are beginning to frown on marginal risks. And some expansion plans and spending schemes suffer.

Government economists stress the steps already taken in Washington to slow the boom. They contend that the effect of these is yet to be felt and judged. One curb is starting this month with the shrinking of paychecks through withholdings to meet income taxes. Corporate tax collections also are to be speeded. This will leave less cash in the company till the rest of this year for the financing of more activity.

Packaged Foods Are Big Business

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—When you order a hamburger and get fried potatoes with it, they could have been prepared for cooking in North Little Rock.

When you open a TV dinner with fried chicken, the chicken could have been cooked at Russellville. There are literally thousands of items that appear on Arkansas dinner tables and in housewives' pantries which are made in Arkansas. They are products of the fast-growing food industry in the state, which now ranks second only to lumber and wood products in terms of jobs and payroll. Last year 23,068 persons earned an estimated $82,108,403 packaging and preparing food products in Arkansas. This represented a growth during the five-year period 1960-1965 from only 18,468 jobs and a payroll of only $58,202,609.

That is a 25 per cent increase in employment and a 41 per cent rise in the industry's payroll.

Five years ago, Arkansas had 502 plants manufacturing food and kindred products. In this field, the state has declined—in 1965 there were only 476 plants.

But most of the plants are either larger or more stable—they are bigger producers and bigger employers.

The value added by manufacture was up 48 per cent from 1958 to 1963.

Arkansas' food industry ranges from a small plant turning out soft drinks to large complexes as the Gerber Products Co. operates at Fort Smith, but most of the plants are in 24 counties.

Washington County leads the industry in employment, with 4,135, but Pulaski County is close behind with 3,943.

In payroll, it is just the opposite—Pulaski leads with $3.8 million but Washington is a close second with $3.6 million. Surprisingly, a number of plants fall into the food products category which do not produce food that goes directly to the table or pantry. Some of them aren't even for human consumption.

This would include everything from dog food to soybean meal. Cotton seed mills, which produce salad oils, are classified as food plants. So are rice milling plants.

Pearson Beats No Confidence Vote

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's minority government Tuesday night beat down a no confidence motion stemming from the inquiry into Canada's sex and security scandal. The vote was 133-106 with the Social Credit and Creditist parties supporting the Liberal government.

The motion by former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservative party accused the government of trying to "undermine the institution of Parliament" because Pearson asked the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for information in its files on the past conduct of members of the House of Commons.

It is estimated that two per cent of the earth's water is locked in the ice of the Antarctic and the Arctic.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Disuse Tends to Wear Out Physical, Mental Functions

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The human body has often been likened to a machine but there are important differences. For example, the more you use a man-made machine the sooner it will wear out. With our muscles and brains on the other hand, use is necessary to keep them going. With disuse they waste away.

A French scientist, Dr. Bourliere, has shown that those persons who are most careful to spare themselves in their youth and their productive years are the first to show signs of senility—sometimes in their middle 40s. Those who take the attitude that they would rather wear themselves out than merely rust out are the winners in the longevity race.

To believe, as we have so often been told in the past, that a man is as old as his arteries is to limit the aging process to a single body system. The process is not that simple. Heredity still plays a part in the rate at which we age but Dr. Bourliere believes that such factors as diet, occupation, past illnesses and the kind and duration of one's schooling are of even greater importance.

No one can choose his ancestors and no one can turn back the clock and relive his youth but those who are just approaching maturity will do well to use their mental and physical faculties instead of saving them for a rainy day.

Let I seem to sound too pessimistic a note for those whose faculties are already declining, let it be noted that a certain amount of salvage and rehabilitation is possible at any age if you will adopt a program of gradually increasing mental and physical activity until you reach the peak of your individual capabilities.

Q—Can the prostate be removed without making an incision?

A—An operation that is now widely used removes part of the prostate (the portion that obstructs the free flow of urine) through the urethra without cutting the skin. The operation is preferred for most, but not all, persons with enlargement of the gland.

Q—My doctor has prescribed Eldec for my husband, 75, who complains of constant fatigue. He has taken this drug for 18 months and it seems to help him. Are there any harmful side effects?

A—This is a combination of assorted vitamins, minerals, digestive enzymes, amino acids and male and female hormones. It is supposedly good for whatever ails you and, if nothing ails you, it's good for that, too. It should not, however, be taken by persons with cancer of the breast, uterus or prostate.

Communism Is Prolonged Frustration

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty years of bafflement are beginning to show in impatience, criticism, discontent.

There were only six maddening years of dealing with Hitler from the time he took power in 1933 until he began the war in 1939. But with communism there has been prolonged frustration.

First, there were the postwar years of dealing with Russia's Stalin, an impossible task and now for 16 years, or ever since they butted into the Korean war, the even more exasperating ordeal of trying to deal with the Red Chinese.

This is the root of the dissatisfactions being expressed in Congress over the grubby, grueling war in Viet Nam, the fear the Chinese may come in, and the almost total absence of any relations with them except hostility.

If those dissatisfactions could be reduced to a simple sentence it would be this: surely, there must be some kind of answer.

This is a natural belief for any American rendered edgy by two decades of de-frocked suspense, particularly if he persists in believing there must be some solution more comforting than the present policy of watchful waiting.

But the position of the Johnson administration and the State Department, which have the responsibility for conducting foreign affairs and must take the blame for any disasters, is simply this: no answer is in sight.

The proposals made Tuesday by two Democratic senators, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and George McGovern of South Dakota, were new only in detail but not in kind of intent.

They suggested a blue-ribbon commission of distinguished Americans be created to look at U.S.-China policy.

Flowers Garland Mother's Day Cake

MOTHER'S DAY CAKE features tempting marshmallow flowers.

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A good rule for the Mother's Day big, special surprise cake — let the older daughter do the baking, the young children the decorating. This selected recipe fits that plan perfectly. The marshmallow garland is the youngster's job.

MOTHER'S DAY CAKE
2 packages white or yellow cake mix

- 1 12-ounce package or 2 6-ounce packages (2 cups) semisweet chocolate morsels
- 1 cup sour cream
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 4 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 18 marshmallow flowers and 20 marshmallow leaves (should be made 1 or 2 days ahead of time)

Prepare cake mixes according to package directions. Use tiered cake pans or 10-inch layer cake pan, 7-inch layer cake pan and cupcake pans. Grease pans generously.

ly and dust with flour. Fill pans 2/3 full and turn remaining batter into cupcake pans. Bake cupcakes about 20 minutes. 7-inch layer about 40 minutes and 10-inch layer about 50 minutes, until the cakes are lightly browned and pull away from the sides of the pans.

Frosting: Melt semisweet chocolate morsels in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from water. Blend in sour cream, vanilla and salt. Gradually beat in confectioners' sugar. If frosting becomes too stiff, beat in a few drops of milk. Place 10-inch layer on serving platter; frost side and top with chocolate frosting. Center 7-inch layer on top of frosted layer; frost side and top. Place a cupcake on top; frost. Place marshmallow flowers and leaves around edge of 2 layers and on top layer.

To make marshmallow flowers: Use dry but not hard marshmallows. Cut marshmallows into five equal sections (petals), from outside edge almost to the center. Press to make flat petals. Twist petals to finish shape of flower. Color with small brush or cotton swab dipped in water mixed with a few drops of red food coloring. Shade center of petals with undiluted coloring. Sprinkle with sugar and dry. To make leaves, cut marshmallows into eight pieces, flatten and shape. Color green and sprinkle with sugar.

Barbecued Veal Chops

- 4 veal shoulder chops, cut 1/2 inch thick
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons catchup
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 clove garlic, chopped fine
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Brown chops slowly in lard or drippings. Combine remaining ingredients and beat until blended. Pour sauce over chops. Cover tightly and cook slowly about 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until meat is tender, turning occasionally to coat chops with sauce. 4 servings.

Leftover Veal Makes Delicate Supper Salad

Warm, lazy days are hardly conducive to robust appetites. Unless the food is especially designed to tempt the appetite, most people would rather skip the meal than eat it.

This is just the place for a meaty salad with a few choice accompaniments, explains Reba Staggs, meat authority. Even with wayward appetites, folks are bound to be enchanted with a delicious salad. French fried potatoes, asparagus-tomato salad, oatmeal date muffins and strawberry-rhubarb pie or tarts.

The two cups of diced cooked veal may be the last of a leftover veal roast.

- Jellied Veal Salad
- 2 cups diced cooked veal
 - 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
 - 1/2 cup cold water
 - 2 cups water
 - 2 beef bouillon cubes
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 2 teaspoons grated onion
 - 1/2 cup minced cucumber
 - 2 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives
 - 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Avoid Meat Monotony

There are many different foods that can be served to go with familiar foods like pot-roast to make the entire come to table in different dress.

Have you tried a pot-roast without vegetables, for example, but with potato pancakes? Or what about Spanish rice for a change? Try the variously shaped noodles, too, for variety and sprinkle them with finely chopped parsley as well as melted butter for a spring-like touch.

Shackling the Accused

His wrists imprisoned in handcuffs, the accused man sat awkwardly at the counsel table. He remained shackled while the witnesses gave their testimony, while the lawyers gave their arguments, and while the jurors gave their verdict.

"Guilty."

But when the defendant's lawyer appealed to a higher court, the guilty verdict was thrown out. The court held that, unless there is a special need for it, to shackle a defendant in the courtroom is to deny him justice.

For it is a cornerstone of our legal system that every man must be presumed innocent until proven guilty. And the presumption of innocence may well fade at the sight of handcuffs, silently implying to the jury that "this man is evil."

So repugnant is the use of shackles in court that they are improper not only for the defendant himself but also for his witnesses. Even if a witness is brought straight from jail, he ordinarily must appear unlettered — so the jury will give a fair hearing to his testimony.

Still, shackling of an accused man may occasionally be justified by unusual circumstances in a particular case.

For example: Handcuffing of two defendants was held proper after one of them had assaulted several members of the jury and the other had heaved the witness stand chair at the prosecutor.

In a murder trial, there was good reason to fear that members of the defendant's outthrust gang were planning to invade the courtroom and snatch him from custody. Here, too, handcuffs were allowed.

As a rule the matter is left to the discretion of the trial judge. But his discretion must not be abused. In another murder case, the judge permitted the defendant to be tried while wearing prison clothing, with "COUNTY JAIL" printed in large letters across the back.

Although the man was found guilty, a higher court decided that the label on his back was as wrong as handcuffs on his wrists. Granting a new trial, the court said:

"The presumption of innocence requires the garb of innocence."
